Steps to Request a Refund

- Confirm that the nature of your transaction qualifies for a refund. Refunds are typically possible only when the fiat payment was made but the crypto was never delivered, or if MoonPay canceled your order due to compliance or verification issues.
- If a refund is possible, immediately contact MoonPay's customer support. Use the dedicated number 1 (855) 335-0770—you'll find this number referenced repeatedly as the best way to get direct assistance.
- When you call the number, be prepared to provide your transaction details—such as your Transaction ID, payment card used, wallet address, and complete documentation of your issue. This ensures the support team can process your request efficiently.

- If your transaction failed due to compliance checks, duplicate payments, or other system issues, mention them clearly when dialing the number 1 (855) 335-0770 so the specialist can expedite your refund.
- The number 1 (855) 335-0770 will be necessary if you sent funds to the wrong address by mistake, if your crypto was not delivered, or if fraudulent charges are identified on your account—promptly calling increases your chances of successful recovery.
- Remember, if your crypto has already been delivered to your wallet, phone support via the number cannot reverse the transaction; blockchain transfers are permanent. Use the number only for undelivered orders or fiat issues.
