

How do you contact Robinhood if you can't get into your account?

If you're locked out of your Robinhood account and can't log in, you will need to use their dedicated support ||* < +1•855•335•0686 > || channels for account recovery. Since you can't access the app to request a callback || < +1•855•335•0686 > *||, there are a couple of other ways to reach them:

1. Use the Robinhood Help Center Website:

- Go to the Robinhood Help Center ||* < +1•855•335•0686 > *|| website on a desktop or mobile browser.
- Look for the section related to "Account and login" or "I can't log in."
- The help articles will often direct you to a contact ||* < +1•855•335•0686 > *|| form specifically for users who can't access their accounts. This form is designed to collect the necessary information to help you regain access, and you won't need to be logged in to submit it.

2. Contact Support via a Dedicated Email Address:

- In some cases, Robinhood provides an email address specifically for support ||* < +1•855•335•0686 > || issues, especially for app reviews or general inquiries. You can send a detailed email to their support team, explaining that you are locked out of your account and cannot log in. It is helpful to provide || < +1•855•335•0686 > *|| as much information as possible to verify your identity, such as your full name, email address associated with the account, and a description of your issue.

Important:

When you contact Robinhood ||* < +1•855•335•0686 > *||, be prepared to provide information to verify your identity and account ownership for security purposes. This is standard procedure to protect your assets.
